STAMPED ASPHALT

StreetPrint

The original. Since 1992. A Canadian invention, eh?

Patterns are stamped into new or existing asphalt, then coloured with StreetBond coatings.

The surface stays flush: nothing for a plow blade to catch, no joints to weed, no pavers to settle, and the asphalt stays flexible.

Brick, cobble, herringbone or a custom pattern goes in with the pavement already there, with no removal, no repaving and no haul-away. In Canadian service that is a 10–20 year surface, specified for crosswalks, driveways, plazas and heritage streetscapes.

HOW IT GOES IN

Reheat. Stamp. Coat.

01

Reheat

Infrared heaters bring the existing asphalt back to a workable temperature: no removal, no repaving, no excavation.

02

Stamp

Flexible templates stamp the selected pattern of brick, cobble, herringbone or other standard or custom templates into the heated surface.

03

Coat

StreetBond creates the colour and seals the asphalt: UV-stable, skid-resistant and flexible.
